Notre monde francophone. Il est si grand et si diverse. On parle tous français, mais quel français? Notre environnement et notre histoire ont modifié, pas la langue de Shakespeare mais bien celle de Molière. De nos jours, on se retrouve tous à parler une langue commune mais aux parfums bien différents, à tel point que l'on ne se comprend plus parfois et que le français de jadis est devenu "pollué" d'après les linguistes. Quel vilain mot, pollué ou enrichi? Telle est la question que l'on va débattre et réviser.
